VOLUME 5.

BENTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 18, 1893.

NUMBER 52.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10.—Senator Voorhees on Saturday gave notice that next Wednesday's session of the senate would be made continuous, for the purpose of trying to get a vote upon his bill for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman silver law, and since then every senator who is absent, and not paired upon this bill has been notified to be on hand Wednesday. Numerous attempts have been made in the past in the senate to force a vote upon measures by holding continuous sessions, but there have been more failures than successes, and the peculiar circumstance surrounding the present attempt make it almost certain to be a failure. No party machinery can be used in this contest, because there are no party lines observed by the friends and opponents of the repeal bill. The question which is exciting the most interest here is, what will follow the failure to reach a vote on the Voorhees bill? One of two things must be done. If the bill cannot be passed it must either be indefinitely abandoned, leaving the present law in force, or a compromise amendment that can be passed be adopted. Which will it be? No man can at this time answer that question with absolute certainty, but it being generally admitted that the present law is a bad one the probabilities seem to favor a compromise, although a number of prominent democrats, among them President Cleveland, believe that it would be better to abandon the bill for a time than to adopt a make-shift compromise.

Whatever the result, so far as the Voorhees bill is concerned, the opinion seems to be increasing daily among conservative men, regardless of party affiliation, that congress must pass a bill authorizing the administration to issue bonds to increase the gold reserve fund whenever it may become necessary in order to avoid panics similar to the one the country recently passed through which may at any time be brought on by large and continuous exportations of gold. Men who six months ago opposed an issue of bonds under any circumstances are now advocating that the authority for issuing bonds be given to the administration. It would not necessarily follow that bonds would be issued. The knowledge that they could be issued if necessary to replenish the government supply of gold would, in the opinion of shrewd financiers, of itself act largely as a preventative of the exportation of gold.

When the House adopted the order closing debate on the bill for the repeal of the federal election law, yesterday and directing that the voting on the bill and the amendments proposed thereto should begin today and continue until the bill was disposed of, it was thought that the senate would have before this disposed of the Voorhees repeal bill and have been ready to receive the election repeal bill.

The Ford's Theatre disaster has been recalled to public notice during the past week by the opening of the trial of the four men indicted for criminal negligence in connection therewith; by a senate resolution for the appointment of a joint congressional committee to ascertain the responsibility of the government for damages to the families of the victims, and by beginning of repairs upon the wrecked building. A rumor that the men who occupied the building at the time of the disaster are to be again put in there to work as soon as the repairs are completed has raised a general protest, not only from the five hundred clerks and their friends, but from the public at large. It would certainly seem to be an unnecessary cruelty to compel those clerks to work in that building again.

It is extremely doubtful whether the joint resolution offered by Representative Davey, of La., for the appropriation of $25,000 for the relief of the cyclone sufferers on the southern coast gets through congress. Not because individual senators and representatives are opposed to helping the sufferers, but because all such appropriations by the general government have been opposed on principle for many years, on the theory that the several states should furnish needed relief to their own citizens.

However, this being an exceptional case the House committee on Appropriations, to which the resolution was referred, may ignore precedent and favorably report it. Should it be favorably reported it would probably pass.

President Cleveland and his family moved out to his country residence Saturday afternoon, and they will remain there until cold weather, the President coming in to his office every morning and returning in the afternoon. Mrs. Cleveland is rapidly regaining her strength and baby Esther is enjoying good health. Miss Ruth celebrated her second birthday last week.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this Remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucous and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by R. H. Starks.

What Would He Do?

Suppose that eight or ten third party men were elected to the legislature, what could they do? They could not carry out one of the reforms of which they so often boast; in fact, they would not try. They would only sit and draw their pay and go home and complain at the democratic party for all the wrongs that were done. What measures are now being proposed by them that would benefit the tax-payers of the state? Can they name one, that when enacted into laws, would better the present condition of the people or save the state any taxes?

There is not a state in the United States today that is, financially, in better condition than the state of Kentucky. Other states have been bankrupted, and some have repudiated their contracts, but in every instance they have been governed by other political parties than the democratic. This state has been under the control of the democratic party for time out of memory most, and if that party had been as corrupt as some would have us believe, instead of being in good condition, would have been at the bottom.

The people, the tax-payers, are not willing to make a change as long as the affairs of state are in as good condition as they are now. If the republicans or peoples party were in power what would they do in the way of legislation that would put the people of the state in a more prosperous condition than they are now? They fail in their speeches to say what they propose that would be better for the people; and, until they can show a system of state government, or propose a code of laws that are better for the entire state than the ones we now have, the people will never make a change.

Once For All.

For twenty-five years or more we have heard men complain about the pay that members of the legislature get, and the small amount of work they do, and the number of days they are absent, and that it was all wrong. We have heard candidates rage on the stump and say what they would do, if they could be elected, to bring about a reform on this line and on that, and say that they would repeal the laws that gave a member pay for a day that he did not answer to the roll call. We have heard the republicans charge such and such or the democrats, and now comes along the reform, third party, and their candidate has the same old song to sing about the democrats taking money for days in the legislature when they were absent. To all such complainers we wish to say to them, once for all, that there is not now a man, woman or child living that will live to see the day that a member of the legislature will draw less than $5 per day for his services or be docked for an absent day. That, in the first place, is no reform, and a conservative American people will never get down to that class of parsimonious economy. No such laws will ever be enacted, nor no political party is to blame for them, nor never will be; if a man is elected to the general assembly and he don't perform his duty as such member let him be held responsible for his neglect of duty by his people at home, and not blame a whole state or party because a certain county sent a dead-head to the legislature.

In most of such instances the state is better off when such members are at home. If the democratic party is to blame for members drawing pay when absent then the republicans and third party members are guilty of the same offense. The parties don't need reform as much as some men in these parties need it. If there is a man in either party that thinks it is wrong to draw his per diem when he is absent from duty, why don't he leave the money in the state treasury, and not draw it out and then go home and abuse the party in power for it.

All such objections arise in the minds of aspiring demagogues, and they, in their wild march for office, have filled the people full of false ideas of political economy, until they are continually complaining of evils of which they are not afflicted, only in imagination.

We hear, men most every day saying that a member of the legislature should not draw his pay until he answers to his name when called in the house. These same persons see and know of other officers who draw an annual salary and perhaps a hundred days in each year they do not work or earn a dollar of it, and yet they say not a word against it. Do justice to all classes of public men and not single out one class and let the others pass.

When will our people become so educated that they will reform themselves and see their faults from an individual standpoint before they are so ready to condemn the party in power.

"During my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhoea," says A. E. Bending, of Halsey, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow." For sale by R. H. Starks.

Dr. McBride of Orange, Va., uses a flock of geese as a team of horses, which draw him over the ice in a specially prepared vehicle at the rate of 14 miles a minute. He is now making a balloon, in which he proposes to ride, drawn by this same winged team.

"Consider Chamberlain's cough remedy a specific for croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children. I have known of cases of croup where I know the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy." J. J. LaGrange, druggist, Avoca, Neb. 50 cent bottles for sale by R. H. Starks.

Be Consistent.

These great sticklers for state reform are inconsistent in some of their economic demands. If they are so ready to complain because a member of the legislature is mean enough to be absent a day and then draw his pay, why not complain at the governor? There are many days he is not on duty, but he draws his pay all the same. Look at the judges of the appellate and superior courts, who receive $4,000 per annum for their services, and they are sometimes off duty for months, but still they draw their pay. Then the circuit judges they not only are sometimes absent, but are disqualified by reason of being interested in some litigation that may be in their courts in which a pro tem judge has to be elected by the bar; in those cases both draw the same pay. Why don't you complain at this?

Then we need not stop here; there are the county judges, and county attorneys, they draw salaries and are absent, some of them half of their time, but not a word do these great reformers offer against these things. The trouble is with them they get their eyes fixed on an imaginary evil, but the real ones they fail to see or discover. To touch one means to touch all.

This is One.

We call attention to one officer that is paid that is well paid for his services, and that is the jailer. The legislature at it next session would make a very nice little move towards reform and economy if it would reduce the price for feeding prisoners from 50c to 40c per day. They get, under the present law, $16 per month for boarding a prisoner, while the man who furnishes everything, house, clothing and other necessities and comforts to the paupers only receives for such services from $5 to $10 per month. Jailers can well afford to feed all the prisoners that are committed to them at 40 cents per day, and such a change in price would save the tax-payers of the state a snug little sum of money. In our opinion this is one of the offices that can be run for much less money than it is at present prices.

Mrs. H. E. Wellman, No. 2 Linn st., Janesville, Wis., under date of June 16, writes the following: Kenyon & Thomas, Sirs: I was confined to my bed four months with inflammation of the right ovary, had a good physician and tried almost everything, but got very little help. Until I tried your Dr. Hale's Household Ointment about four months ago. It has done wonders for me. I can do quite a good day's work. I have every reason to believe that it will entirely cure me. I am also using your Dr. Hale's Household Tea with good results. Sincerely Yours, MRS. H. E. WELLMAN.

Obituary.

Died October 2, 1893, J. E. Bourland, aged 61 years, 9 months and 26 days. He was born in Marshall county, Ky., Dec. 6, 1831. Was married to Lucinda Dent December 9, 1858. Came to Texas and located in Rockwall county in 1875; remained there until 1883, when he came to Parker county, where he lived until death. He died with a hope of an eternal home in Heaven. To mourn their loss he has left a kind and devoted wife and six dutiful children. He sleeps the still cold sleep of death among the beautiful mountains of the west, but his spirit has winged its way unto Him who hath said "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

Weep not for the past, Though it hold in its gloom, Loved forms that have sunk To their rest in the tomb. His death was so calm and serene that it reminded one of these beautiful words of the song: For truly 'tis only the soul taking flight, And death is only a dream; Which was the last song he sang on earth, while sitting under a beautiful shade tree at his sweet little home.

NELLIE BOURLAND.

"A girl who is engaged to be married is practically dead to her family and friends," said a lady who has studied human nature in all of its phases. "She will probably come back to her normal condition a few months after marriage, but before the wedding day you might as well let her alone. There are many girls who never appear to such a disadvantage as during the days of courtship to every one but their lovers. They become unamiable in their homes, neglectful to their friends, self-absorbed almost to exclusiveness. It may be truly said that one of the keenest tests of character is the appearance in a girl's life of that disturbing element, a lover."

A Chicago woman, Miss Kate Kane, is going to run as an independent candidate for a judgeship of the superior court. She has secured over 3,000 names to the petition she will file with the election commissioners.

At Georgetown, Miss Jennie Wainscott, housekeeper at the Lancaster hotel, has brought suit for damages in the sum of $10,000 in the Scott circuit court against J. E. Harry, of Georgetown college. Several weeks ago Mrs. Harry, while a boarder at the Lancaster hotel, had a pair of diamond ear rings, gold watch and pocket book containing a small sum of money stolen from her room. Miss Wainscott was accused of the theft and her room was searched by an officer, who failed to find any of the missing articles; hence the suit.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce
of Lyon county, a candidate for representative in the counties of Lyon and Marshall, as the Republican nominee. Election first Tuesday in November.

We are authorized to announce
of Marshall county, a candidate for State Senator in the Second senatorial district composed of the counties of Ballard, Carlisle, McCracken and Marshall, subject to any action the Democratic party may take in the matter.

We are authorized to announce
JOHN W. OGILVIE,
of McCracken county, a candidate for State Senator from the counties of Ballard, Carlisle, Marshall and McCracken, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,
E. BARRY.

WED. EVENING, OCT. 18.

THE LEGISLATIVE OUTLOOK.

The legislative race in the counties of Marshall and Lyon is now in good shape and will result satisfactorily to the democrats if they go out to the election and vote as it is their duty to vote. If the democrats will be true to our nominee he will get more votes than Graham and Jones both combined. Two years ago these same parties had nominees in the field for governor and a full vote was polled. The democrats polled 640 in Lyon and 849 in this county, making a total of 1,489 in both counties. The republicans polled in Lyon county 84 votes and in Marshall 586, making a total of 670 votes in both counties. The republicans got 367 votes in Lyon and 244 in this county, giving them a total vote of 611, which added to the vote received by the people's party would make 1,281 votes, they both receiving 208 votes less than were cast for the democratic nominee. In that election the people's party only received 59 votes more than the republicans. The result of the election which is soon to come off will show that two years have wrought a change in the strength of the two parties. Barry, the democratic nominee, will receive more votes than Graham and Jones both, while Jones will beat Graham a very nice majority. There is not much difference in the strength of the republican and people's party in this legislative district, but the people's party is not now as strong as it was two years ago, consequently the republican party will cast more votes at the November election than the people's party. The democratic party is gaining strength in these two counties all the time; the republicans are about holding their own, while the people's party is gradually falling by its own weight, so many of its members getting back into their old parties.

Livingston county court claims allowed J. L. Abell $500 for his services as road commissioner, $27 as poor house commissioner, $500 official salary as county judge and $75 as bridge commissioner. J. C. Hodge county attorney $500, and C. L. Washburn county superintendent $500. $1.50 was fixed as poll tax and 25c on the $100 for county purposes, which when collected will leave a surplus in the treasury of $3,587.76. Good for Livingston.

Only a short time ago Mr. Graham, the nominee of the people's party, could not make a speech without dwelling loud and long on the beauties of the sub-treasury; where is he now? He never mentions it; why, because it is unpopular in his own party, and is bitterly opposed by all other parties. It is a wild delusive scheme with no good in it, and impracticable from all standpoints in political economy.

Will the people vote for a man that once belonged to the democratic party and left it, and has been fighting conventions, and then went into one and accepted the nomination.

Speaker Moore of the last legislature was beaten for state senator 385 votes in his own county last Monday.

Senator Blackburn has killed the goose that laid the golden egg so far as he is concerned.

A political party 670 strong met in mass convention at Birmingham and only 62 voted for a nomination.

Mr. Graham can't hide the policy of his party by talking of the difference between a page and a messenger.

Will Mr. Graham argue for the sub-treasury in his campaign? No, indeed! it's a dead issue; it died of its own weight.

The administration will repeal the Sherman law, or the blame must rest with the obstructionists, where it properly belongs.

The man that will fight conventions today and accept a nomination tomorrow is too changeable to be trusted to legislate for any people.

How can Mr. Graham denounce a democratic state government and at the same time endorse our democratic governor? Wants to catch "a wine an' a comin'."

Just 1,022 voted in a democratic primary, 62 in the people's party convention and 16 in a republican convention. In which did the voice of the masses speak out?

Two years ago the third party was 670 strong in this legislative district, yet only 62 met at Birmingham and saw proper in a convention to dictate to the other 600 who should be their nominee. Mr. Graham accepted this nomination, notwithstanding he had been making war on conventions ever since he left the democratic party.

The Depot Located.

Since the depot was burned at this place there has been an effort on the part of a large majority of the business men and tax-payers to have the location of the new depot changed from where the old one was. There was no particular objection to the change at first, but the subject was discussed pro and con until there were men on both sides of the question. Supt. Hills, who by the way is a modest nice gentleman, and does not like to displease anyone, came out to settle the question, but things were a little too warm for him to take the responsibility of changing the location of the depot in the face of the opposition. Finally in order to do away with any legal technicalities that might arise, Col. T. H. Puryear, Judge Barry and W. J. Wilson were selected to locate and name the place to build it. They met last Friday morning, and after a careful survey of the grounds, located it between Main and Puryear streets, but in the northeast corner of the block near the railroad. This will bring the depot in less than one square of the old Briensburg road, the very place for the convenience of the people and the beauty of the town.

Since the people have learned where the new depot is to be built, almost to a man, they are pleased with the location. This we are more than glad to hear, because our town is too small for our people to be divided on such important local matters. The trustees have taken North Benton into the city, and in less than 30 days they will have streets in that part of the city graded and gravelled, the work on the new depot will have been begun, and the new mill under good headway, then that part of Benton will begin to bloom and blossom as the rose.

Will Enjoin.

The court of claims at its last session allowed $46 out of the railroad tax of the Benton district to pay for surveying the south and west boundary line of said district. This the court had no right to do, as the tax is for a specific purpose and the court has no power to appropriate it for anything other than to pay the debt and interest of the bonds of the district. Unless the court can, at its next session, show the law for such action the expenses of the survey will have to be paid out of the county levy. The sheriff has been notified not to pay the allowance until the next session of the court of claims, when it can do as it pleases—pay it out of county levy.

Court House News.

Henry McGrigor, a young married man, who resides only a short distance southwest of town, was indicted two years ago for shooting and killing Wm Smith, a colored man who chanced to be here on that Christmas eve night, was tried in the circuit court last week for voluntary manslaughter and sentenced to two years confinement at hard labor in the state penitentiary.

On last Christmas eve, two years ago, Henry came to town and filled up on whiskey until he became intoxicated. He had a pistol in his pocket, but notwithstanding he was noisier he was involved in no trouble, but when dark came, so the evidence goes, he said he wanted to kill him a "coon" before he went home, and did not seem to care which one it was. Finally he took out his pistol and, as he claims, fired it accidentally and hit the colored man named Smith, from effects of which he died in a few days. The case has been continued from time to time by his attorneys, and a continuance was attempted at this term of the court, but the judge said he must be tried, and the motion for a continuance was promptly overruled. The defendant was represented by Reed & Oliver and Fisher & Bean, while the commonwealth was cared for by Mr. Bradshaw, J. G. Lovett and County Attorney Heath. A large number of witnesses were examined, and some able speeches made on both sides. The case was given to the jury and it hung for about 24 hours, but finally brought in a verdict of two years in the state prison. Now this young man must leave his family and friends all because of two much whiskey and pistols. He came from a highly respected family, all of whom have the sympathy of the community in which they live.

In the case of the commonwealth against John Greenfield for hauling a barrel of whiskey from here, on Sunday, to Hardin, the court assessed a fine of $7.50 against him. John says he will haul no more whiskey on Sunday.

Willie Greenfield was fined $50 for giving whiskey, etc., to a minor, but when the jury came in and the court asked, "is that your verdict, gentlemen?" some seemed to murmur, but in a low tone of voice.

Ed Ozment was tried for breach of the peace, but was readily acquitted, and the boy walked away a free man.

The case of N F Lindsey charged with horse-stealing, was continued by the defendant until the next term of the court.

Thomas Clark, who was indicted at the last term of the court for swearing falsely in the Gardner trial, failed to appear when his case was called and his bond of $500 was declared forfeited and an alias bench warrant issued for him and a summons for his bondsmen, Mr. E B Clark and A F Clark, the first his father and the latter his brother.

Buck Boren, charged and indicted for carrying on his person a concealed deadly weapon, appeared before the court through his counsel and had his case continued until next term.

Ex-town Marshal Seaf Pasteur's case for assault and battery was filed away with leave to re-docket at any time.

The case against Morgan Williams for using insulting language, etc., was continued until next term.

Robert Larimore was fined $20 for gaming and one cent for breach of the peace.

Evan Youngblood was indicted for malicious cutting at the last term of the court. The case was called Monday but was continued until next term.

J. H. Crosby was tried for not working the road as its overseer but was acquitted.

The following persons were divorced Monday: Nannie Abanathy vs Robt Abanathy; S T E Thweatt vs H L Thweatt; J S Young vs Linnie Young; Ella Warfield vs Sam Warfield.

The grand jury did a good week's work last week, and are still at work.

W. F. Bradshaw is getting to be a close commonwealth's attorney. He is mightily in the boys' way.

The Way to Select the Juries.

The sheriff has selected the juries his last time. The new jury law makes it the duty of three jury commissioners to select 500 names of good men and house keepers and put them in a revolving drum prepared for that purpose, and the first twelve names drawn therefrom will compose the grand jury, and the next 24 names the petit jury. When court comes on and the regular panel is exhausted in a case, then the drum is turned again, the jury made up of names taken from it, and so on until all of the names are taken out. The drum is not likely to be empty in a county like this in twenty years. This is a good law and will give general satisfaction to everybody.

Hickman County.

The above county has a population of the same as our county. Its court of claims was in session last week and allowed the county judge $700, county attorney $700, county superintendent $689.70, and also allowed the physicians in that county $762.10 for their services in attending to the paupers. This is a big price for pauper practice, or at least our court would think so if such a bill were presented. We publish these items to show our people that we have an economical fiscal court as any in the state. Every now and then we can hear our magistrates accused of extravagance, but such charges are untrue. They may get wrong, but not extravagant.

Calloway Co. News.

The city council of Murray has at last got a move on it and has passed an act proposing to extend the corporate limits of the town far enough to make the town about one mile square. This is a move in the right direction, and if the proposed addition becomes a part of the city, it will do more to make the town grow and put on the airs of a city than anything else they can do. The town of Murray is and has been of sufficient importance for a long time to have the limits extended, and now since the town is out of debt there will never be a better and more satisfactory time to do the work than now. Our town trustees have brought all of North Benton in to town and not an objection was raised by anyone in or out of the original town limits. A town will never grow or amount to anything as long as the boundary line is so small.

The sheriff of Calloway county failed to do his duty in taking the necessary steps to hold the election in order that a vote might be taken at the coming November election as to whether the people of the county would vote $25,000 to build a new court house, and the Ledger proceeds to give the dilatory official a gentle roasting. The Calloway fiscal court failed to meet on the first Tuesday in October as the new law directs. The members of that court should read up on the law and not be so far behind in attending to their official county business.

L. Y. Woodruff and a gentleman by the name of Nesbit, of Union City, Tenn., are preparing to put up a planing mill near the Murray depot, so says the Ledger.

Murray Ledger: Doubtless there are not many citizens of Calloway county aware where the lime that was used in building Calloway's present court house, 50 years ago, came from, and how it was delivered here. The other day while in Marshall county we came across Mr. M. H. Goheen, a citizen of the vicinity of Olive, who gave us a bit of history that we had never before known, and we have concluded to give it to our readers, that probably not many of them are aware of it, either. Mr. Goheen says the lime used in the building of said court house was burned at the foot of the hill this side of Birmingham, then a part of Calloway, but now in Marshall county. A gentleman by the name of Thos. Dark was the party who burned it and got it in readiness to haul to Murray. Mr. Goheen was the party who hauled it here. It was measured in an old fashioned bushel tub and dumped loose into the wagon bed. An ox team was used in bringing it to Murray, and three days was required to make the round trip from the lime kiln to Murray. The lime cost 10c a bushel at the kiln, and measured as above stated, the wagon bed holding 50 bushels. This is a bit of history that doubtless not many inhabitants of the county know anything about. In fact, we had never thought of it until Mr. Goheen called our attention to it the other day.

There was a large crowd of people out last Saturday to witness the game of base ball between the Murray and Benton clubs. There was of course much interest manifested by our people for the local club, and as the game progressed the interest increased until it was at fever heat at the close of the ninth inning. The Murray club was again victorious, but that club is, with the assistance of two Mayfield boys, just a little too strong for our club; but notwithstanding they were assisted by the two crack players of Mayfield, the game was a nice one and was enjoyed by all who witnessed it. The game led off very nicely, but in the third inning our club got rattled and the Murray club ran ahead 14 scores, but finally cooled down, and at the beginning of the eighth inning got onto Holcomb's curves and batted him at their will, and succeeded in getting nine men across the home plate. The ninth was equally as bad for the Murray boys, but they were too far ahead to be caught. Score: Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9-T. Murray-3 0-12 3 3 1 4 3 x-29 Benton-2 2 0 0 3 0 0 9 8-24 Umpires—Hesselton and Stillely Time—Two hours and fifty-five minutes.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

Obe Melan—by the sheriff. A long fly from Murray bat—by Clint Holland; the first for Clint. Otis Churchill's long hair—by the chilly wintry winds.

Lundy Dyle's activity—by our knee-pants third baseman. McElrath's home-run—by a lot of cord-wood, but the umpire saw it different. A Mayfield pitcher and catcher—by the Murray club. That Mayfield "rooster"—by the "kids."

That case of cholera, that Clay Lemor couldn't catch—by Ocas Martin, the Murray tantalizer.

DR. J. W. NELMS SAYS:
ATLANTA, GA., August 14, 1893.
For the past two years I have used King's Royal Germetuer in my private and professional practice. I have used it in Typhus, Typhoid and Bilious Fevers, and always with the speediest and best effects. It lowers the temperature and breaks up fevers of all kinds common to this latitude more expeditiously than any remedy within my knowledge. From my own experience in its use, upon myself and others to whom I have recommended and administered it, I believe it would be a good remedy for Yellow Fever. It is a most excellent Antiseptic, cures Catarrh, Insomnia, Night Sweats and Eczema in all its forms. King's Royal Germetuer is emphatically a safe remedy and leaves no injurious effects in the system. JOHN W. NELMS, M. D., Mayor West End, Ga.

I have used Dr. King's Royal Germetuer for indigestion, and cheerfully say that it afforded me more relief than any other remedy I ever tried. I also used it in my own family in a case of malarial fever with best results. I take pleasure in recommending it. W. G. FORD, Holly Springs, Miss., June 5, 1893.

A SURE and CERTAIN CURE known for 15 years as the BEST REMEDY FOR PILES. Prepared by RICHARDSON MEDICINE CO., ST. LOUIS.

It's a Serious Business.
There's no fun in selling drugs—no fun in buying them; they are generally bought for a serious purpose, as medicines for sick people.

Physicians.
The first consideration is their purity. Altered, adulterated, or frequently do more harm than good, and are always of an inferior quality. They should be carefully avoided.

Prescriptions.
Experience in compounding is another item of importance. The blending of drugs requires practical knowledge and perfect skill. A competent prescriptionist must have these.

Compounded.
Then—prices. Given the good quality and best compounding the cost of drugs need not be unnecessarily high. A reasonable profit suits us—we don't charge for our experience.

Lemon's Drug Store.

PATENTS.
